

MANY EXEMPTION CLAIMS ARE BEING FILED BY THOSE IN 2D CALL

Fifty Per Cent. of Those Examined On Wednesday and Thursday Ask For Release From Military Service

BOARD EXPECTS TO GET 75 MEN

The work of examination of prospective recruits for District No. 1 is progressing rapidly this afternoon, the third day for the second call. Yesterday's list was gone through in record time. Of the 70 examined, 48 passed the physical test while 22 were rejected. Of this entire number examined 35 filed claims for exemption.

The District Exemption or Appeal Board has issued the following instructions concerning appeals from the findings of the local boards:—

Oil City, Pa., Aug. 24, 1917. The way claims of appeal and claim for discharge on industrial or agricultural grounds which are being received by the District Board shows that in more than half of the cases the parties applying do not understand the requirements of the Regulations. Some statements have been made that Local Boards do not explain the procedure to those desiring to take an appeal. It is possible that on account of the great number of persons with whom the Local Boards have had to talk, they may have been somewhat too abrupt in explaining matters. The ordinary person does not readily comprehend such details. However, the fault is not with the Local Boards in any but a few cases. The law and the Regulations put upon a man asking for an exemption the burden of taking all steps necessary to convince the various Boards that he is entitled to it. Unless he does so properly the matter cannot be acted upon by the Boards, as their jurisdiction and power is limited by the Act of Congress and the Regulations prescribed by the President. Much has been said in the newspapers against lawyers having anything to do with requests for exemptions, but we notice where lawyers have prepared the papers, the matter has been handled correctly, or account of their familiarity with such things.

If an applicant does not understand what he is to do, it would be advisable for him to have some intelligent man who understands such things attend to the matter for him, provided his claim is genuine. There is no reason why one man should not assist another in this way, because the law grants certain exemptions, and the person who assists is not in any way responsible for the law or the action of the Boards.

We find more than half of the claims for discharge on agricultural or industrial grounds are not accompanied by affidavits as prescribed in the Regulations. The claim for discharge in these cases is a mere statement by the applicant and is not sworn to, and the applicant should have an affidavit drawn and sworn to by someone having knowledge of the facts, setting forth everything which he thinks would influence the decision of the District Board. A mere statement that he is engaged in farming is not enough and will not do, because the law does not say that all farmers are to be exempted. Only those are to be discharged whom the District Board decides should be discharged. The size of the farm and the portion under cultivation should be set forth, the name of the owner, the character and amount of the crops, the amount of stock, the amount of help on the farm, the length of time the applicant has worked on the farm, whether he gives his whole time to the work, or whether he does anything else during the year, and any other information of this character which would assist the Board in an intelligent understanding of the circumstances. Unless the Board is convinced that the man is absolutely necessary and cannot be replaced without direct substantial loss, he will be held for military service.

Many applicants are writing to the Board for such form of affidavit. No form has been prepared by the Government, as it is obvious that the circumstances would differ in each case.

This applies to men working in industries as well as on farms. Affidavits must be submitted to the Board showing that the man is clearly necessary to the industry in question. What the Board wants is a statement of facts and not a conclusion of law or an inference from facts. It is for the Board, not the employer, to decide whether the man is necessary or not. The employer should state facts showing why the man is necessary and should place before the Board all the facts upon which he bases his opinion. The employer must further swear that the man cannot be replaced without direct substantial loss and detriment to the adequate and effective operation of the industry. Furthermore, the connection of the man with the work being done for the Government by his employer should be shown. A fireman in a munitions plant, for instance, would not be connected so directly that he should be discharged.

It was decided at the conference in Harrisburg to discharge from the operation of the draft only such men without whom the industry could not get along. It has been said that there are not class exemptions, but it is doubtful if the force of this statement is thoroughly understood. Merely because a man works on munitions of war for the Government is no reason why the District Board should discharge him from the draft. If he should be discharged merely because of that fact, the law or the President would have said so, as the President is authorized to designate classes of men who shall be exempt. He has not done so. It was the consensus of opinion at Harrisburg that shops making munitions of war or supplies for the Government should be no exception to the general rule. The actual effect on the industries will be much smaller, it is believed, than some employers seem to think. The Provost Marshal General was informed by the head of an industry employing 52,000 men that it would survive if 25 per cent of the men were taken. Under the draft law nowhere near that percentage will be taken. It is understood that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has decided to ask for no discharges whatever. The mere shortage of labor cannot be considered by the Boards. The principal thing is to secure an army, and, as was pointed out, if all those engaged in mining coal or in farming in certain districts were exempted, the district could not by any possibility furnish their quotas.

It will be the purpose of the Board to inconvenience industries as slightly as possible. It is believed, however, that due to women entering upon occupations for which they are fitted, more and more men will gradually be released to take the places of those called in the draft.

It has come to the knowledge of the District Board that certain employers are intending to ask for exemption of all men in their employ. An unwillingness to co-operate with the Government, as evinced by such decisions on the part of an employer, cannot serve to impress the Board with the good faith of the employer. There is no use trying to fool or impose upon the various Boards, on account of channels of information which are open to them. An employee of one company told a member of the District Board that he wanted to go in the first draft, but was forced by his employer to ask for discharge. Naturally the Board will scrutinize with

Y. M. C. A. Will Handle Subscriptions

Will Give Everybody a Chance to Assist in Entertaining Soldiers

Word has been received by Mr. Corbett of the local Young Men's Christian Association from William Orr of the National War Work council calling for books and subscriptions to current magazines for use in army encampments. The American Library association is cooperating in an effort to supply all association quarters in army camps with an abundance of good reading. Any books and subscriptions to magazines will be gladly received at the office of the association, and forwarded to the various distributing points.

George B. Landis, of the Pennsylvania state committee is now located at Camp Hancock, in Georgia, and has an able staff of experienced men with him there ministering to the guardsmen who have recently gone from this state. The names of boys who were in the membership here have been sent to the workers there, and they would be located and made welcome on their arrival. Church and association workers will be listed in the various Christian and social activities. There is opportunity for many kinds of service among the soldiers and many men are glad to assist in making camp life homelike. Friends and parents, who have boys in this camp, who might be helped by having a part in association activities who wish to have the workers on the field engage soldiers in Christian activities should send the names to the association office.

The state of Pennsylvania is advertising for forty men qualified to do association work who speak French and who will go to France in the fall to engage in work among the soldiers.

J. N. Schoonover, a prominent Philipsburg citizen, died at Jersey Shore, Pa., last evening at 5:30 o'clock, aged 66 years. His death was due to an attack of pneumonia.

The deceased was born in Tioga Center, Pa., but had been a leading and most successful business man in the lower end of Clearfield county, and Philipsburg region for many years.

suspicion, every claim presented by this company.

The board received official notice today concerning the forwarding of the first five per cent of the district's quota. There will be eleven men in this contingent and they will be sent to Camp Lee at Petersburg, Va. They will travel via the Pennsylvania railroad and will leave Clearfield Friday, September 7th, the hour of departure to be determined later.

The board has received applications from several times the number necessary to fill the first requisition of five per cent, and will select the men today or tomorrow.

The Clearfield County Public Safety Committee at a meeting Wednesday evening decided to give the boys a fitting farewell sendoff and plans for same will be arranged the first of the week.

School for Soldiers Lesson No. 16

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and direction. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States army to which this course is merely introductory.

LESSON NO. 16 STAFF BRANCHES OF THE SERVICE—1

In addition to the three fighting arms—infantry cavalry and artillery—there are nine branches of the army known as the staff corps and department. In general their first and most important duty is not fighting, but assisting those who do fight, by providing them with everything they need. Very few people outside the army have a clear idea of the organization of these nine branches or of their duties.

Following are the staff corps and departments: general staff corps, adjutant general's department, inspector general's department, judge advocate general's department, engineer corps, signal corps, medical department, quartermaster corps, ordnance department.

The first four of the staff branches just named are composed entirely of experienced and capable officers. The other five include enlisted men as well as officers.

The Brains of the Army
The business of the general staff corps is to study military problems of all kinds, to work out the best solutions, and to report to the chief of staff of the army. It is often called the "brains of the army," and it would be hard to give a better description in a few words. The war college division of the general staff corps is devoted to the study and investigation of new and special problems.

In time of war some of the members of the general staff corps are called upon to do special work.

German Spy Hunt An Interesting Game

Government Sleuths Carefully Combining All Parts of Country

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 31.—Government sleuths are watching for evildoers among the Kaiser's spies in all parts of the country it was learned today.

The government knows there are plenty of Boche apostles scattered through the United States who would be delighted with a chance to feed children poisoned candy, sprinkle poison in wells and reservoirs and do other things of the sort.

Every effort is being made to "spot" these pleasant creatures. Many of them have been arrested quietly.

So anxious were the Kaiser's agents to poison children in Romania that they flew over that land in aeroplanes and dropped socks of poisoned candy, which the children ate and within 24 hours died in agony from the effects of the poisoned sweets.

The government wants to control this situation and at the same time avoid engineering suspicion and hatred of loyal Germans among the country's citizens.

In announcing that it had found tetanus germs in samples of court plaster distributed by anonymous peddlers in various parts of the United States, the department of justice prefaced its statement by saying that it did not "share in any sensational view as to the manner in which the court plaster became infected."

"But" added "the public is cautioned against purchasing this remedy except from approved sources, the warning being particularly directed against purchases in small packages from street peddlers and vendors."

Jean Crones, the Kaiser's chef who poisoned the prelates' soup at the Chicago banquet thus producing a straw which showed the way his mental mind blew, is still at large in the United States.

The government has secret information showing that Crones has many kindred spirits of his own bent in our midst, men who await only a good chance to murder babies poison men and women and start fatal epidemics among communities by the proper distribution of rock of pet germs.

Park Devastation Must Be Stopped

Management Will Make Example of Next Boy Caught Damaging Property

The kiddos who set fire to the stables at the Driving park while smoking corn silk were before Judge Bell for a reprimand today, having been brought in by Juvenile Officer Leavy at the request of the park management in an effort to establish in the minds of the kids of the town that property destruction in the park must cease. The little lads responsible for the fire were but 7 and 8 years of age and were very much scared at their predicament. The arrangement was satisfactory to their parents and the lads promise to never offend again.

The park people did not want to prosecute or make trouble but they will insist on better conditions about the park hereafter. The boys have been carrying on very badly over there for some time and their depredations have reached such a point that examples will be made of the next ones caught trespassing and destroying fences and other property.

If you want to keep your boy out of trouble caution him about his conduct at the park.

"Soup Shovelers" Intensely Patriotic

Six Out of Thirteen Volunteer to Lick The Kaiser

We never believed that the occupation of "soup shoveling" as it is practiced in these parts, was able to create more than a disposition on the part of the "soupist" to withstand an excess of "thumb baths," but judging from the record made by the force of "belly robbers" employed at Ralph Jordan's Second street cafe as regulars the past few years, the fellow with hardihood sufficient to induce him to willingly "ram his thumb" into any given number of bowls of hot soup per day, will not hesitate a minute to assume greater responsibilities and face greater possible dangers when duty calls.

When war was declared on Kaiser Wilhelm der Goose-and-his Kultur, and men were called for, one of the first to respond was Guy Lawhead, of Jordan's force. Then followed in rapid succession Lex Miller, C. O. Miller, Fred Maisch, Albert Moore and Kirby Merrifield. Today, out of an original force of thirteen men, but seven remain and at least three of them are in the draft and will go out on the first call.

The Knight Templars Made Fine Showing

Rain Interfered With Crowd But Magnificent Parade Was Given

Philipsburg witnessed a great parade of a fine body of men on the occasion of the Field Day of the Knights Templar in that city yesterday. Hundreds of uniformed Sir Knights gathered into the city from all parts of Central Pennsylvania for their annual review before the Grand Officers and although the rain threatened all forenoon to spoil the well laid plans for a glorious day the clouds rolled away in time for the street parade which was one of the best of its kind ever witnessed in this part of the state. Commanderies from Lewistown, Huntingdon, Williamsport, Lock Haven, and other cities were present with large numbers and each Commandery brought with them a band. The famous Imperial Teteque band of Williamsport headed the procession and other strong bands present were the Tyrone Shop Band and the Crescent Band of Curwensville.

The parade was much larger and more spectacular than was expected in view of the weather which was so unfavorable.

MORE U-BOAT FEROCITY EXPECTED TO FOLLOW REPLY TO POPE

Kaiser Wilhelm And His Cohorts Will Add To Frightfulness Wherever Possible Is Well Defined Rumor

U-BOAT PROBLEM IS BEING SOLVED

By John H. Hurley (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Aug. 31.—Resumed submarine warfare against the United States as well as England will be one result of President Wilson's declaration to accept Pope Benedict's appeal and in which the American executive clearly stated that the German government had not taken the desired democratic step to date. Diplomats here today revealed the belief that the central empire has been trying to make the American people believe that she is ready to become a democracy but the evidence is that Germany failed in this.

At the Vatican today it was stated that when all the replies from the belligerents are received the Pope proposed to issue a statement pointing out the questions of peace on which all agree and those on which all disagree. These latter will be made the subject of discussion. In this way the ones agreed upon will be gradually sifted out and peace will become a practical policy.

The Pope it was learned has expressed the greatest disappointment over the rejection of his peace plan by the American President. According to rumors here Emperor Karl and even the Kaiser has informed the Pope that their empires would become a democracy. In spite of this, however, diplomats here believe that the "democratic" move is more for American consumption than for the Teutonic people themselves.

The German attempt to increase submarine frightfulness because of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict will be met by new and vigorous measures from this country. Defensive and offensive measures will be used against the Kaiser's sea piracy. Navy officials today declared that by the use of American genius the U-boat would fail. Some believe that Germany may use a larger submarine than the 800 ton type. This would give the patrol more work but the situation would not be any worse than it has been for months, said an expert. A means of detecting the approach of a submarine, use of smokeless coal and the screen of camouflage death bombs and other inventions will check the Kaisers' revengefulness, navy officials believe.

PEACE COUNCIL WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 31.—The orphaned People's council disowned by the middle west will deposit itself on the front steps of the national capital, Lewis C. Lochner, executive secretary of the council, made this known today. In a letter announcing that efforts will be made to hold the proposed peace convention at Washington Sunday. The Council was prohibited from meeting in Minneapolis, North Dakota, and Wisconsin. Officials of the organization will leave for Washington tonight to make arrangements. The special train bearing eastern delegates which left for the west last evening will be turned by at Elkhart, Ind.

WILL USE IRON HAND IN RUSSIA

New York, Aug. 31.—"The military at Petrograd is today suppressing antigovernment and counter revolutionary activities" a special cable to the Jewish Daily Forward, received today from the Russian capital, asserted. "The government was armed against uprising and street demonstrations were violently suppressed. The main reason for the uprising is the shortage of food." The cable added that at Chernigov the Jews were attacked and accused of hiding food. 20 persons are dead in Moscow and many more will die as the result of over drink from liquor which was stolen from a nearby brewery.

HEAVY BRITISH LOSSES IN FLANDERS

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 31.—The fearful fighting on the Flanders front in the past month has cost England 60,373 casualties in killed, wounded and missing compilations showed today. The figure is below that of last month which was 71,899 but the loss of officers is much greater. Officers killed, wounded and missing in July totaled 2,426 and in August the number was 5,430.

WILL SEND MORE ENGINEERS TO FRANCE

Washington, Aug. 31.—To keep pace with demands for more labor assistants the war department proposes to send a regiment of engineers to France soon. This became known today following reports from J. P. Pegler, United Press correspondent with Pershing's expeditionary forces, that more labor was needed. The authorization at present is for 19,000 engineers and 4,000 laborers, but it is understood that this number will be considerably increased soon. General Pershing recommended that more men be sent but he did not complain of conditions.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 31, 1917.

Boys are still boys but they are men when it comes to wages.

If the Democrats had Sheriff timber this year as good as the present Sheriff they might stand some show of electing their man. Sheriff McCloskey has made a good record and will leave his office without any criticism, even from the malcontents of his own party. Sheriff McCloskey entered office unfettered, young enough to think and act independently and wise enough to listen with attention to the advice of the older heads but with good common sense enough to pursue his own course in the many cases where the old horses of the party sought to use him as a tool.

Candidates for county offices must stand on their merits with regard to their ability to perform the duties of the office and not claim any consideration because of being crippled or having sacrificed themselves to country or any other plea. Candidates for re-election will be judged by past performance in office and not by the uniform they wear at present. To those who wear the uniform of the U. S. A. we give great credit. We will give them all in our power to do the work they have started out to do. We will take off our hat to them anywhere and any place, but while they are officers in the army we need officers at home as well.

War time does not call for a complete obliteration of the finer things of life. Our liberal education should go forward. Arts and sciences must advance if we are to keep pace with the balance of the world when it is once again at peace. Thousands are talented in ways and things entirely removed from the art of warfare and must not be discouraged from following the paths that nature has outlined for them. Music is one of the blessings of our Maker and He has endowed thousands of our young people with talent in order that they might give cheer to the masses who must suffer. No greater crime has ever been committed than that of trying to make a civil engineer out of a young man whose ear is tuned to the violin string or that of trying to make a school teacher out of the young woman who has the voice of the nightingale. Young people should be allowed to choose their professions in life and those who seek to develop the finer things such as music, painting and writing are to be encouraged rather than ridiculed.

BIRTHDAY OF WILHELMINA

The Hague, Aug. 31.—The birthday anniversary of Queen Wilhelmina was celebrated throughout the kingdom today through the joyous festivities and gay decorations of the years before the war were lacking. The great conflict has entailed many hardships on the Netherlands and its people and no small share of the burden has been borne by the Dutch Queen. Prince Henry, consort of the Queen, is a German by birth and sympathies, which fact has not helped to elevate him in the esteem of many of the Hollanders. During the past three years Prince Henry has found it convenient to spend much time in Switzerland or elsewhere outside the Dutch domain. Her Majesty resides the most of the time at the royal country seat at Het Loo, with occasional short visits with the little Princess Juliana at Katwyk, a quiet little seaside place only a short distance from The Hague.

The Cardinals can't see anything but victory over the Browns in the St. Louis city series this fall, while the Browns figure they can continue to trim the Cards, come what may.

Honus Wagner has dropped out of the .300 batting set, leaving Fischer the only Pirate representative in the heavy slugging contingent.

Rear-Admiral F. T. Bowles, formerly chief naval constructor, has accepted a position as advisor and assistant to Admiral Capps, general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The tight pennant race between the White Sox and the Red Sox has engendered bad blood between the two teams. Whenever they meet one hard look given by one of the Sox to a rival performer is enough to start a riot.

AN ODE TO THE HOUSEHOLD PETS

Oh! tranquil Tabby, amber-eyed,
And soft and sleek and roundly
furry,
You ramble by the garden side
Serene and calm and free from
worry;

But ah! with steak at eighty cents
And ham and mutton past all reason
While millions cry for sustenance
I wonder where you'll be next season.

Ah! faithful Fido, placid pup,
Suspecting no untoward disaster,
Your bright, devoted eyes look up
To meet the fond ones of your master.

But eggs are getting high and few,
And ducks and chickens cost like
thunder,
And even fish is costly, too;
Will you be here next year, I wonder?

Oh! Canary bird of tender voice,
So bright, so swift, so light winging
it makes our weary hearts rejoice
To hear the carols you are singing;
But milk is rising every day,
And bread and buns are ruling
stronger,

And as you pipe your roundelay
I doubt that you will sing much longer.

ELEVATOR MIRRORS ABOLISHED

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 31.—To-day saw the removal of the last mirror from the elevators in California. No more will the lady passenger be able to see that her "make-up" is on edge, or place her hat at the proper angle or give a last squint and pull at her veil. The mirrors have been abolished by order of the State Accident Commission. Investigation convinced the commission that the mirrors were the cause of many injuries, resulting from flying glass when the car fell or was jarred by the sudden application of the safety clutch. Other accidents have been caused by the women passengers pausing before the mirror to give themselves the visual "once over" when they should have been watching their step in emerging from the car.

CONVENTION OF HEBREW ASSOCIATIONS

Boston, Mass., Aug. 31.—Army, navy and relief work are to furnish the leading topics of discussion at the seventh annual convention of the Associated Young Men's & Women's Hebrew Associations of New England, which met in this city today for a four-day session. Because of the war, all social entertainment will be eliminated from the program. No banquet will be held but in place a farewell reception will be given the enlisted members.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back-ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious disease.

SCHOOL HOUSE DAMAGED BY LIGHTNING

During the severe electrical storm Wednesday at noon lightning struck the Reedsville school building. The bolt ripped a number of slats off the roof and went down into the school rooms knocking the plaster off the walls and tearing things generally. An unoffensive old parlor organ standing quietly in the corner was tipped off and several old familiar tunes knocked out of it.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So
Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand. It's a "home" recipe and folks are using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

These once again schoolmaster gruff
Who delighted his pupils to cuff
He'd arise with much cholar
And grab a poor scholar

And now collars and cuffs aren't so rough
Though they say in the fall
We'll find out one and all
That the collars will be ruff enough
Ruff stuff!

New York August 31.—It's a wee bit ruff, my dears, but it has us by the ears and a ruff neck you will have to be this fall if you want to be real smart and correctly dress the part for a ruffles neck's not in it now at all.

In the days of Good Queen Bess (though I really cannot guess why they call her good now pray can you conjecture) ruffs were worn by all the swells all the beaus as well as belles made of linen starched and pleated of fine texture.

Now I thought when just a child, though the theory now seems wild, that the reason they wore ruffs in that far day was because when Queen Bess said "Off with his" or "with her head," that the ruff would sort of help things in this way.

When the headman made the chop just below the ruff—kerflop—then the ruff around the head would make a frill like the frills we have today on our lamb chops when to stay there is company to dine and eat their fill.

Now those headmen you can see over-rough were bound to be while the chopped off heads were over ruff as well, but I hope no one today will go off her head that way over ruffs or any other fashion spell.

In those days it is quite true that the men were ruffed up too and the greatest brains emerged from out the frill. Bill Shakespeare wrote his best, I am sure when he was dressed in a ruff whereon he wiped his facile quill.

And when Drake and Raleigh sailed while the angry billows railed and the winds and waves were rough, in linen line, I've no doubt, they both stepped out on the deck and with a shout said "I see you're rough of waves, do you see mine?"

Just fancy if today Shaskleton should dress this way or Mr. Perry or old Mr. Cook. If H. G. Wells should write in a ruff he'd be a sight and I don't believe he'd buy his latest book.

But 'tis needless thus to fret for the men have not as yet thrust their neck through fashion's yoke these present times. Just the women now the dears are in ruffs up to their ears though they are quite sufficient for these ruffes.

Quite a problem for the stout, that they'll have to figure out, all this ruff wear seems to promise for the fall. How an extra-double chin is a-going to be tucked in is a thing I can't elucidate at all.

Think what quantities of lace, if you have a full moon face, it will take to make your ruff much fuller still. Yards and yards of muslin too, it will take to make into a frill, your fulsome face won't fully fill.

But whether thin or fat, it will be some art at that to learn to eat our victuals in a ruff. Spots of gravy or of soup will soon cause your ruff to droop. We may have to use a slaw for liquid stuff.

And how ever will we kiss? Did you ever think of this? For a stiff starched ruff's no aid to osculation.

For if you kiss a gent your ruff will sure get bent and that will also dent your reputation.

For thus your ruff will show like a record, don't you know how oft you've yielded to the kiss temptation. Oh it's going to be taught on all the loving stuff—Dan Cupid might as well take a vacation.

GIRLS! MAKE A BEAUTY LOTION WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no seeds will get in. Then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough red hands.

Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Life a corn or callus right off
without one bit of pain.

Yes! You can easily get it off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet, without one bit of pain.

A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

The Norwegian is prohibited by law from spending more than five cents at one visit to a public-house.

National Army To Be Well Fed

Uncle Sam Takes Good Care of The Inner Man

By George Martin
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Aug. 31—On the march or encamped on hikes, the soldiers of the New National army won't fare so sumptuously as in cantonment. Still he'll have clots more three times a day than some folks in Germany are getting.

Also he'll have to take care of his own mess kit. No dining room orderly will set his table with knife, fork, spoons, plate, cup and saucer. He will have to take those things in hand, line up before the serving kettles, take his meal wherever he likes to eat it and wash his individual dinner dishes afterward.

He'll have to wash them properly too. If he comes up for inspection with a greasy spoon or something he'll be punished.

Nor will eating his meals be the pleasure it is in permanent camps. He'll have to learn the rudiments of juggling and something of the art of culinary acrobatics. Balancing a plate of beef and beans, a tin cup of coffee and a knife, fork and spoon while choosing a smooth, hard spot somewhere on the landscape for a dinner table is no snap.

In temporary camp there will be no time for fancy breakfasts. If he gets fried bacon, boiled potatoes, bread and coffee he may count himself lucky.

For lunch, the chances are, he'll get canned corn beef, or fried bacon or canned salmon, cold canned tomatoes, hard or fresh bread and coffee.

For dinner he'll most likely get canned soup, boiled or roast beef, mashed potatoes, peas, corn or succotash, bread and coffee. Mostly canned stuff and hastily, though properly prepared, but with no attempt at style.

But it will be interesting to watch the tricks of the trade employed by the camp cooks with their little vest pocket camp cooking outfits.

For instance, when they want a fireless cooker for the dinner beef, they'll take a bundle of straw, the morning milk can and the camp ash can. Putting the milk can inside the ash can, they'll pack the straw around it, slap the beef inside the milk can, clamp down the lid, pack straw on top, clamp on the ash can lid and let 'er cook.

Practically every utensil in the abbreviated cooking outfit serves an ingenious double or triple, sometimes a quadruple purpose.

Ready for School Opening

If You Have Needs to Supply For Your School Children Make Purchase BEFORE School Opens

Logic by Mary Ellen Brown, the stylish girl of our town, you need to make a list of what you need to buy before school opens. But you must be well dressed to look smart.

Mothers who have waited heretofore until the last minute to buy their children's school needs have come to learn that IT IS BEST to make purchases EARLY. If it is a new dress, a new coat, stockings, ribbons or other items the child will need, why wait until the last minute and then be worried with the hustle and hurry of selecting. While we are making special displays of children's wear needs, you can choose satisfactorily and easily and have your child as neat and trim looking as any of her classmates. Aside from this, the values now in force make it worth while to purchase AT ONCE.

WILL HEAR MOOLEY DAILY

Frank M. Adams, representative of the Gamewell Fire Alarm and Telegraph Company, was a Clearfield visitor today, having dropped off here en route to a neighboring town where he expects to sell an up-to-date electrical fire alarm system. The local soldier boys who go to

Petersburg, Va., with the new National Army will receive a daily reminder of Clearfield, as Mr. Adams informs us that the War Department has installed a Gamewell electric fire alarm system in every one of thirteen cantonments prepared for the draft army. Thus the fire signal will be sounded by thirteen sisters of "Old Mooley," and the test signal will be a daily reminder to old home scenes and people.

Ray Caldwell playing center field for the Yankees isn't such a bad bet at that. Donovan's incorrigible pitcher can play the job and is somewhat swifter with the stick.

Labor Day 1917

"MAKE THE WORLD SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY" is the cry that rings over our land from the Golden Gate to the Statue of Liberty.

The eager response has been wonderful. Thousands have answered the call of the colors. Thousands have turned their energies toward the feeding of a hungry world. Thousands have joined the throng of workers whose duty it is to provide the sustaining necessities for our boys in the trenches and in training. Thousands toil that business at home may be kept normal and our daily needs supplied.

In the forefront of all these varied activities—with faces turned toward the great light of democracy—marches Labor. Each man feels keenly his personal responsibility. Each man is doing "his bit" nobly. And to each man shall come his share of the glory of world freedom.

To these workers do we dedicate Labor Day 1917, and in their honor this store will remain closed all day.

MANY EXEMPTION CLAIMS ARE BEING FILED BY THOSE IN 2D CALL

Fifty Per Cent. of Those Examined On Wednesday and Thursday Ask For Release From Military Service

BOARD EXPECTS TO GET 75 MEN

The work of examination of prospective recruits for District No. 1 is progressing rapidly this afternoon, the third day for the second call. Yesterday's list was gone through in record time. Of the 70 examined, 48 passed the physical test while 22 were rejected. Of this entire number examined 35 filed claims for exemption.

The District Exemption or Appeal Board has issued the following instructions concerning appeals from the findings of the local boards:—

Oil City, Pa., Aug. 24, 1917. The way claims of appeal and claim for discharge on industrial or agricultural grounds which are being received by the District Board shows that in more than half of the cases the parties applying do not understand the requirements of the Regulations. Some statements have been made that Local Boards do not explain the procedure to those desiring to take an appeal. It is possible that on account of the great number of persons with whom the Local Boards have had to talk, they may have been somewhat too abrupt in explaining matters. The ordinary person does not readily comprehend such details. However, the fault is not with the Local Boards in any but a few cases. The law and the Regulations put upon a man asking for an exemption the burden of taking all steps necessary to convince the various Boards that he is entitled to it. Unless he does so properly the matter cannot be acted upon by the Boards, as their jurisdiction and power is limited by the Act of Congress and the Regulations prescribed by the President. Much has been said in the newspapers against lawyers having anything to do with requests for exemptions, but we notice where lawyers have prepared the papers, the matter has been handled correctly, or account of their familiarity with such things.

If an applicant does not understand what he is to do, it would be advisable for him to have some intelligent man who understands such things attend to the matter for him, provided his claim is genuine. There is no reason why one man should not assist another in this way, because the law grants certain exemptions, and the person who assists is not in any way responsible for the law or the action of the Boards.

We find more than half of the claims for discharge on agricultural or industrial grounds are not accompanied by affidavits as prescribed in the Regulations. The claim for discharge in these cases is a mere statement by the applicant and is not sworn to, and the applicant should have an affidavit drawn and sworn to by someone having knowledge of the facts, setting forth everything which he thinks would influence the decision of the District Board. A mere statement that he is engaged in farming is not enough and will not do, because the law does not say that all farmers are to be exempted. Only those are to be discharged whom the District Board decides should be discharged. The size of the farm and the portion under cultivation should be set forth, the name of the owner, the character and amount of the crops, the amount of stock, the amount of help on the farm, the length of time the applicant has worked on the farm, whether he gives his whole time to the work, or whether he does anything else during the year, and any other information of this character which would assist the Board in an intelligent understanding of the circumstances. Unless the Board is convinced that the man is absolutely necessary and cannot be replaced without direct substantial loss, he will be held for military service.

Many applicants are writing to the Board for such form of affidavit. No form has been prepared by the Government, as it is obvious that the circumstances would differ in each case.

This applies to men working in industries as well as on farms. Affidavits must be submitted to the Board showing that the man is clearly necessary to the industry in question. What the Board wants is a statement of facts and not a conclusion of law or an inference from facts. It is for the Board, not the employer, to decide whether the man is necessary or not. The employer should state facts showing why the man is necessary and should place before the Board all the facts upon which he bases his opinion. The employer must further swear that the man cannot be replaced without direct substantial loss and detriment to the adequate and effective operation of the industry. Furthermore, the connection of the man with the work being done for the Government by his employer should be shown. A fireman in a munitions plant, for instance, would not be connected so directly that he should be discharged.

It was decided at the conference in Harrisburg to discharge from the operation of the draft only such men without whom the industry could not get along. It has been said that there are not class exemptions, but it is doubtful if the force of this statement is thoroughly understood. Merely because a man works on munitions of war for the Government is no reason why the District Board should discharge him from the draft. If he should be discharged merely because of that fact, the law or the President would have said so, as the President is authorized to designate classes of men who shall be exempt. He has not done so. It was the consensus of opinion at Harrisburg that shops making munitions of war or supplies for the Government should be no exception to the general rule. The actual effect on the industries will be much smaller, it is believed, than some employers seem to think. The Provost Marshal General was informed by the head of an industry employing 52,000 men that it would survive if 25 per cent of the men were taken. Under the draft law nowhere near that percentage will be taken. It is understood that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has decided to ask for no discharges whatever. The mere shortage of labor cannot be considered by the Boards. The principal thing is to secure an army, and, as was pointed out, if all those engaged in mining coal or in farming in certain districts were exempted, the district could not by any possibility furnish their quotas.

It will be the purpose of the Board to inconvenience industries as slightly as possible. It is believed, however, that due to women entering upon occupations for which they are fitted, more and more men will gradually be released to take the places of those called in the draft.

It has come to the knowledge of the District Board that certain employers are intending to ask for exemption of all men in their employ. An unwillingness to co-operate with the Government, as evinced by such decisions on the part of an employer, cannot serve to impress the Board with the good faith of the employer. There is no use trying to fool or impose upon the various Boards, on account of channels of information which are open to them. An employee of one company told a member of the District Board that he wanted to go in the first draft, but was forced by his employer to ask for discharge. Naturally the Board will scrutinize with

Will Give Everybody a Chance to Assist in Entertaining Soldiers

Word has been received by Mr. Corbett of the local Young Men's Christian Association from William Orr of the National War Work council calling for books and subscriptions to current magazines for use in army encampments. The American Library association is cooperating in an effort to supply all association quarters in army camps with an abundance of good reading. Any books and subscriptions to magazines will be gladly received at the office of the association, and forwarded to the various distributing points.

George B. Landis, of the Pennsylvania state committee is now located at Camp Hancock, in Georgia, and has an able staff of experienced men with him there ministering to the guardsmen who have recently gone from this state. The names of boys who were in the membership here have been sent to the workers there, and they would be located and made welcome on their arrival. Church and association workers will be listed in the various Christian and social activities. There is opportunity for many kinds of service among the soldiers and many men are glad to assist in making camp life homelike. Friends and parents, who have boys in this camp, who might be helped by having a part in association activities who wish to have the workers on the field engage soldiers in Christian activities should send the names to the association office.

The state of Pennsylvania is advertising for forty men qualified to do association work who speak French and who will go to France in the fall to engage in work among the soldiers.

The board received official notice today concerning the forwarding of the first five per cent of the district's quota. There will be eleven men in this contingent and they will be sent to Camp Lee at Petersburg, Va. They will travel via the Pennsylvania railroad and will leave Clearfield Friday, September 7th, the hour of departure to be determined later.

The board has received applications from several times the number necessary to fill the first requisition of five per cent, and will select the men today or tomorrow.

The Clearfield County Public Safety Committee at a meeting Wednesday evening decided to give the boys a fitting farewell sendoff and plans for same will be arranged the first of the week.

School for Soldiers Lesson No. 16

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and direction. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States army to which this course is merely introductory.

LESSON NO. 16 STAFF BRANCHES OF THE SERVICE—1

In addition to the three fighting arms—infantry cavalry and artillery—there are nine branches of the army known as the staff corps and department. In general their first and most important duty is not fighting, but assisting those who do fight, by providing them with everything they need. Very few people outside the army have a clear idea of the organization of these nine branches or of their duties.

Following are the staff corps and departments: general staff corps, adjutant general's department, inspector general's department, judge advocate general's department, engineer corps, signal corps, medical department, quartermaster corps, ordnance department.

The first four of the staff branches just named are composed entirely of experienced and capable officers. The other five include enlisted men as well as officers.

The Brains of the Army
The business of the general staff corps is to study military problems of all kinds, to work out the best solutions, and to report to the chief of staff of the army. It is often called the "brains of the army," and it would be hard to give a better description in a few words. The war college division of the general staff corps is devoted to the study and investigation of new and special problems.

In time of war some of the members of the general staff corps are called upon to do special work.

German Spy Hunt An Interesting Game

Government Sleuths Carefully Combining All Parts of Country

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 31.—Government sleuths are watching for evildoers among the Kaiser's spies in all parts of the country it was learned today.

The government knows there are plenty of Boche apostles scattered through the United States who would be delighted with a chance to feed children poisoned candy, sprinkle poison in wells and reservoirs and do other things of the sort.

Every effort is being made to "spot" these pleasant creatures. Many of them have been arrested quietly.

So anxious were the Kaiser's agents to poison children in Romania that they flew over that land in aeroplanes and dropped socks of poisoned candy, which the children ate and within 24 hours died in agony from the effects of the poisoned sweets.

The government wants to control this situation and at the same time avoid engineering suspicion and hatred of loyal Germans among the country's citizens.

In announcing that it had found tetanus germs in samples of court plaster distributed by anonymous peddlers in various parts of the United States, the department of justice prefaced its statement by saying that it did not "share in any sensational view as to the manner in which the court plaster became infected."

"But" added "the public is cautioned against purchasing this remedy except from approved sources, the warning being particularly directed against purchases in small packages from street peddlers and vendors."

Jean Crones, the Kaiser's chef who poisoned the prelates' soup at the Chicago banquet thus producing a straw which showed the way his mental mind blew, is still at large in the United States.

The government has secret information showing that Crones has many kindred spirits of his own bent in our midst, men who await only a good chance to murder babies poison men and women and start fatal epidemics among communities by the proper distribution of rock of pet germs.

Park Devastation Must Be Stopped

Management Will Make Example of Next Boy Caught Damaging Property

The kiddos who set fire to the stables at the Driving park while smoking corn silk were before Judge Bell for a reprimand today, having been brought in by Juvenile Officer Leavy at the request of the park management in an effort to establish in the minds of the kids of the town that property destruction in the park must cease. The little lads responsible for the fire were but 7 and 8 years of age and were very much scared at their predicament. The arrangement was satisfactory to their parents and the lads promise to never offend again.

The park people did not want to prosecute or make trouble but they will insist on better conditions about the park hereafter. The boys have been carrying on very badly over there for some time and their depredations have reached such a point that examples will be made of the next ones caught trespassing and destroying fences and other property.

If you want to keep your boy out of trouble caution him about his conduct at the park.

"Soup Shovelers" Intensely Patriotic

Six Out of Thirteen Volunteer to Lick The Kaiser

We never believed that the occupation of "soup shoveling" as it is practiced in these parts, was able to create more than a disposition on the part of the "soupist" to withstand an excess of "thumb baths," but judging from the record made by the force of "belly robbers" employed at Ralph Jordan's Second Street cafe as regulars the past few years, the fellow with hardihood sufficient to induce him to willingly "ram his thumb" into any given number of bowls of hot soup per day, will not hesitate a minute to assume greater responsibilities and face greater possible dangers when duty calls.

When war was declared on Kaiser Wilhelm der Goose-and-his Kultur, and men were called for, one of the first to respond was Guy Lawhead, of Jordan's force. Then followed in rapid succession Lex Miller, C. O. Miller, Fred Maisch, Albert Moore and Kirby Merrifield. Today, out of an original force of thirteen men, but seven remain and at least three of them are in the draft and will go out on the first call.

The Knight Templars Made Fine Showing

Rain Interfered With Crowd But Magnificent Parade Was Given

Philipsburg witnessed a great parade of a fine body of men on the occasion of the Field Day of the Knights Templar in that city yesterday. Hundreds of uniformed Sir Knights gathered into the city from all parts of Central Pennsylvania for their annual review before the Grand Officers and although the rain threatened all forenoon to spoil the well laid plans for a glorious day the clouds rolled away in time for the street parade which was one of the best of its kind ever witnessed in this part of the state. Commanderies from Lewistown, Huntingdon, Williamsport, Lock Haven, and other cities were present with large numbers and each Commandery brought with them a band. The famous Imperial Teteque band of Williamsport headed the procession and other strong bands present were the Tyrone Shop Band and the Crescent Band of Curwensville.

The parade was much larger and more spectacular than was expected in view of the weather which was so unfavorable.

MORE U-BOAT FEROCITY EXPECTED TO FOLLOW REPLY TO POPE

Kaiser Wilhelm And His Cohorts Will Add To Frightfulness Wherever Possible Is Well Defined Rumor

U-BOAT PROBLEM IS BEING SOLVED

By John H. Hurley (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Aug. 31.—Resumed submarine warfare against the United States as well as England will be one result of President Wilson's declaration to accept Pope Benedict's appeal and in which the American executive clearly stated that the German government had not taken the desired democratic step to date. Diplomats here today revealed the belief that the central empire has been trying to make the American people believe that she is ready to become a democracy but the evidence is that Germany failed in this.

At the Vatican today it was stated that when all the replies from the belligerents are received the Pope proposed to issue a statement pointing out the questions of peace on which all agree and those on which all disagree. These latter will be made the subject of discussion. In this way the ones agreed upon will be gradually sifted out and peace will become a practical policy.

The Pope it was learned has expressed the greatest disappointment over the rejection of his peace plan by the American President. According to rumors here Emperor Karl and even the Kaiser has informed the Pope that their empires would become a democracy. In spite of this, however, diplomats here believe that the "democratic" move is more for American consumption than for the Teutonic people themselves.

The German attempt to increase submarine frightfulness because of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict will be met by new and vigorous measures from this country. Defensive and offensive measures will be used against the Kaiser's sea piracy. Navy officials today declared that by the use of American genius the U-boat would fail. Some believe that Germany may use a larger submarine than the 800 ton type. This would give the patrol more work but the situation would not be any worse than it has been for months, said an expert. A means of detecting the approach of a submarine, use of smokeless coal and the screen of camouflage death bombs and other inventions will check the Kaisers' revengefulness, navy officials believe.

PEACE COUNCIL WILL GO TO WASHINGTON

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 31.—The orphaned People's council disowned by the middle west will deposit itself on the front steps of the national capital, Lewis C. Lochner, executive secretary of the council, made this known today. In a letter announcing that efforts will be made to hold the proposed peace convention at Washington Sunday. The Council was prohibited from meeting in Minneapolis, North Dakota, and Wisconsin. Officials of the organization will leave for Washington tonight to make arrangements. The special train bearing eastern delegates which left for the west last evening will be turned by at Elkhart, Ind.

WILL USE IRON HAND IN RUSSIA

New York, Aug. 31.—"The military at Petrograd is today suppressing antigovernment and counter revolutionary activities" a special cable to the Jewish Daily Forward, received today from the Russian capital, asserted. "The government was armed against uprising and street demonstrations were violently suppressed. The main reason for the uprising is the shortage of food." The cable added that at Chernigov the Jews were attacked and accused of hiding food. 20 persons are dead in Moscow and many more will die as the result of over drink from liquor which was stolen from a nearby brewery.

HEAVY BRITISH LOSSES IN FLANDERS

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 31.—The fearful fighting on the Flanders front in the past month has cost England 60,373 casualties in killed, wounded and missing compilations showed today. The figure is below that of last month which was 71,899 but the loss of officers is much greater. Officers killed, wounded and missing in July totaled 2,426 and in August the number was 5,430.

WILL SEND MORE ENGINEERS TO FRANCE

Washington, Aug. 31.—To keep pace with demands for more labor assistants the war department proposes to send a regiment of engineers to France soon. This became known today following reports from J. P. Pegler, United Press correspondent with Pershing's expeditionary forces, that more labor was needed. The authorization at present is for 19,000 engineers and 4,000 laborers, but it is understood that this number will be considerably increased soon. General Pershing recommended that more men be sent but he did not complain of conditions.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 31, 1917.

Boys are still boys but they are men when it comes to wages.

If the Democrats had Sheriff timber this year as good as the present Sheriff they might stand some show of electing their man. Sheriff McCloskey has made a good record and will leave his office without any criticism, even from the malcontents of his own party. Sheriff McCloskey entered office unfettered, young enough to think and act independently and wise enough to listen with attention to the advice of the older heads but with good common sense enough to pursue his own course in the many cases where the old horses of the party sought to use him as a tool.

Candidates for county offices must stand on their merits with regard to their ability to perform the duties of the office and not claim any consideration because of being crippled or having sacrificed themselves to country or any other plea. Candidates for re-election will be judged by past performance in office and not by the uniform they wear at present. To those who wear the uniform of the U. S. A. we give great credit. We will give them all in our power to do the work they have started out to do. We will take off our hat to them anywhere and any place, but while they are officers in the army we need officers at home as well.

War time does not call for a complete obliteration of the finer things of life. Our liberal education should go forward. Arts and sciences must advance if we are to keep pace with the balance of the world when it is once again at peace. Thousands are talented in ways and things entirely removed from the art of warfare and must not be discouraged from following the paths that nature has outlined for them. Music is one of the blessings of our Maker and He has endowed thousands of our young people with talent in order that they might give cheer to the masses who must suffer. No greater crime has ever been committed than that of trying to make a civil engineer out of a young man whose ear is tuned to the violin string or that of trying to make a school teacher out of the young woman who has the voice of the nightingale. Young people should be allowed to choose their professions in life and those who seek to develop the finer things such as music, painting and writing are to be encouraged rather than ridiculed.

BIRTHDAY OF WILHELMINA

The Hague, Aug. 31.—The birthday anniversary of Queen Wilhelmina was celebrated throughout the kingdom today through the joyous festivities and gay decorations of the years before the war were lacking. The great conflict has entailed many hardships on the Netherlands and its people and no small share of the burden has been borne by the Dutch Queen. Prince Henry, consort of the Queen, is a German by birth and sympathies, which fact has not helped to elevate him in the esteem of many of the Hollanders. During the past three years Prince Henry has found it convenient to spend much time in Switzerland or elsewhere outside the Dutch domain. Her Majesty resides the most of the time at the royal country seat at Het Loo, with occasional short visits with the little Princess Juliana at Katwyk, a quiet little seaside place only a short distance from The Hague.

The Cardinals can't see anything but victory over the Browns in the St. Louis city series this fall, while the Browns figure they can continue to trim the Cards, come what may.

Honus Wagner has dropped out of the .300 batting set, leaving Fischer the only Pirate representative in the heavy slugging contingent.

Rear-Admiral F. T. Bowles, formerly chief naval constructor, has accepted a position as advisor and assistant to Admiral Capps, general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The tight pennant race between the White Sox and the Red Sox has engendered bad blood between the two teams. Whenever they meet one hard look given by one of the Sox to a rival performer is enough to start a riot.

AN ODE TO THE HOUSEHOLD PETS

Oh! tranquil Tabby, amber-eyed,
And soft and sleek and roundly
furry,
You ramble by the garden side
Serene and calm and free from
worry;

But ah! with steak at eighty cents
And ham and mutton past all reason
While millions cry for sustenance
I wonder where you'll be next season.

Ah! faithful Fido, placid pup,
Suspecting no untoward disaster,
Your bright, devoted eyes look up
To meet the fond ones of your master.

But eggs are getting high and few,
And ducks and chickens cost like
thunder,
And even fish is costly, too;
Will you be here next year, I wonder?

Oh! Canary bird of tender voice,
So bright, so swift, so light winging
it makes our weary hearts rejoice
To hear the carols you are singing;
But milk is rising every day,
And bread and buns are ruling
stronger,

And as you pipe your roundelay
I doubt that you will sing much longer.

ELEVATOR MIRRORS ABOLISHED

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 31.—To-day saw the removal of the last mirror from the elevators in California. No more will the lady passenger be able to see that her "make-up" is on edge, or place her hat at the proper angle or give a last squint and pull at her veil. The mirrors have been abolished by order of the State Accident Commission. Investigation convinced the commission that the mirrors were the cause of many injuries resulting from flying glass when the car fell or was jarred by the sudden application of the safety clutch. Other accidents have been caused by the women passengers pausing before the mirror to give themselves the visual "once over" when they should have been watching their step in emerging from the car.

CONVENTION OF HEBREW ASSOCIATIONS

Boston, Mass., Aug. 31.—Army, navy and relief work are to furnish the leading topics of discussion at the seventh annual convention of the Associated Young Men's & Women's Hebrew Associations of New England, which met in this city today for a four-day session. Because of the war, all social entertainment will be eliminated from the program. No banquet will be held but in place a farewell reception will be given the enlisted members.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back-ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious disease.

SCHOOL HOUSE DAMAGED BY LIGHTNING

During the severe electrical storm Wednesday at noon lightning struck the Reedsville school building. The bolt ripped a number of slats off the roof and went down into the school rooms knocking the plaster off the walls and tearing things generally. An unoffensive old parlor organ standing quietly in the corner was tipped off and several old familiar tunes knocked out of it.

ALLIES OVERCOMING U-BOAT NEW DEVICES WINNING

American Navy Big Factor in Solving Problem

Washington, Aug. 30.—New devices applied through co-operation of the British and American naval forces in Europe, have had a perceptible effect on German submarine warfare. Merchants vessels engaged in carrying supplies to Europe that have had the benefit of protection afforded by the new devices have been so fortunate that the losses among them have been reduced to one-half of 1 per cent. The navy department is greatly encouraged over this situation and is confidently expecting an even greater improvement in the methods for saving merchant ships from destruction by U-boats.

While officials of the navy department are confident in commenting on the methods employed and their effect, it is permissible to say that the American destroyers and other war ships now in European waters or engaged in convoy duty have managed to sink some 11 boats; how many even the department does not know, but the reports received seem to leave no room for doubt that the American navy is the American navy.

FIX SENATE DATE FOR WAR TAX VOTE

Upper Chamber by Unanimous Consent Agrees upon September 10 as the Limit

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—An agreement was reached by the senate today to take a final vote on the war tax bill not later than Monday, September 10, and the closure petition filed yesterday was withdrawn. The Senate's agreement formally entered into by unanimous consent, also provides for disposition of the war profits section not later than Wednesday of next week and of the income tax provisions not later than the following Friday, September 7. It provides further for earlier action if the debate ends sooner than expected.

The agreement was reached after a day of spirited debate between Senators Simmons and Underwood on war profits, after much negotiation over details, and after Senator LaFollette had blocked an effort to fix next Monday as the day for a vote. If the debate runs through until September 10, the bill will have been under senate discussion just one month. It passed the House May 23.

Reports made by Russian soldiers who have escaped from Germany and which have been transmitted to the state department say prisoners of all nationalities are being used on work just behind the lines and within range of the guns.

Gain soap, and occasionally a bit of meat of horses shot in action comprise their rations. The prisoners have been organized into units as carefully as are soldiers. Their work is done systematically under military attention. When the Russian soldiers left many of the units had lost by disease practically half of their number. No new clothing has been issued to them and in all sorts of weather they are forced to work in vermin-infested rags.

Military overseers, the Russians reported, frequently had them tied to boards and beaten until they had reached the point of exhaustion. Included in the labor units were Germans as well as Russians, British, French, Belgians and Poles. The Germans were those who had participated in food riots or who were physically unfit for service by the Germans. These men were treated very little differently from the prisoners of war.

School for Soldiers

hers of the general staff serve with the generals in the field and assist them in solving and handling their various problems. While on this duty the senior general staff officer acts as chief of staff of the commanding general. This position is not to be confused with that of the chief of staff of the army, who has general supervision of all military operations, both at home and in the field.

The adjutant general's department has charge of all of the records relating to officers and enlisted men, issues orders to carry out the wishes of the commanding officer, and carries on military correspondence. In every battalion and regiment one of the officers of the line is detailed as adjutant to perform for his organization the duties just named.

Military Observers

The inspector general's department observes everything that goes on and reports on the skill and general fitness of officers and troops. At intervals an officer from the inspector general's department reviews the men in each organization examines their arms, equipment and supplies; looks over all records showing expenditures of money or distribution of property; and sends in a complete report, pointing out the good and bad features of the organization. In this way the higher officers are kept informed at all times as to the state of affairs in every section of the army.

The judge advocate general's department is the legal department of the army. It prepares opinions on legal questions for the guidance of other officers or departments; serves as the representative of the law in military courts, and keeps the legal records of the army. Closely related is the office of Provost Marshal General, who has charge, among other things, of enforcing the selective-service law.

Unless you work your way up to a commission, it is not likely that you will come into touch in any direct way with any of the four staff departments just named. Their duties are reviewed here simply because it should be interesting to you to know how the great army machine is kept well oiled and running smoothly even in periods of great difficulty.

The Engineer Corps

You will frequently see the other five staff branches in operation, however, throughout your army life.

The corps of engineers are the skilled workmen of the army. They lay out permanent camps and entrenchments, build and repair military roads, railroads and bridges; dig saps and mines under the enemy's trenches; and take care of other work which requires technical skill of this character.

Theoretically the engineer corps is not one of the fighting arms; but in practice they are often called upon to fight and to perform dangerous duties. They may build bridges or dig entrenchments, for example under the enemy's fire. In modern warfare the engineers play a highly important and often a heroic part.

The signal corps is the message-bearer of the army. It carries information and orders from one headquarters to another. It is today as essential to the conduct of a great army as the telephone is to the conduct of a great business.

The Signal Corps

At one time the signal corps transmitted messages chiefly through the use of flags, lanterns, heliographs (mirrors so arranged as to reflect light rays of light), and the like. Then came a period during which it was chiefly concerned with laying down and operating telegraph and telephone lines and this is still one of its most important duties. However, the wireless is becoming more and more important, even on the battlefield.

A first-class signalman is expert with all these various methods. He is also a good horseman, since he must be able to move about rapidly. His duties may frequently carry him into the battle line and into other dangerous positions, and he must know how to defend himself his chief weapon is the pistol. There is no branch of the service in which a man's intelligence, initiative and technical skill count for more.

The signal corps of the American army includes the aviation section, which has grown to be of such vital importance. The best-known types of air planes are the scouting machine which goes out to get information by flying over the enemy's lines; the bombing machine which goes out to do as much damage as possible to the enemy's military works; and the swift fighting machine, which attacks enemy air planes and protects the slower scouting and bombing machines. The work is dangerous, but partly for this reason is especially attractive to men of high intelligence and daring.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

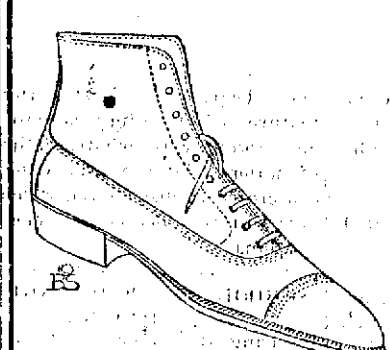

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweats and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

The Hired Man: "Say, ain't they threshed clean, didn't that new Favorite Thresher do a slick job? I'll tell you, we just hooked that little three-horse engine on to it and it started out smooth and easy and there was never a shut-down until we were done."

Bill: "Wish my boss would get one. We started our threshing and just when the boss should have gotten a good price for his grain the old machine with the crank on to it and it started out smooth and easy and there was never a shut-down until we were done."

The Hired Man: "That's the beauty of the Favorite, that eccentric drive on the screens. Never busts and the wear is easily taken up with a couple of bolts. Guess I'll get the old man to look up a Favorite Thresher over at maybe he will get a new one this year."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So
Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair, is grand. It's a "home" recipe, and folks are using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

These once again schoolmaster gruff
Who delighted his pupils to cuff
He'd arise with much cholar
And grab a poor scholar

And now collars and cuffs aren't so rough
Though they say in the fall
We'll find out one and all
That the collars will be ruff enough
Ruff stuff!

New York August 31.—It's a wee bit ruff, my dears, but it has us by the ears and a ruff neck you will have to be this fall if you want to be real smart and correctly dress the part for a ruffles neck's not in it now at all.

In the days of Good Queen Bess (though I really cannot guess why they call her good now pray can you conjecture) ruffs were worn by all the swells all the beaus as well as belles made of linen starched and pleated of fine texture.

Now I thought when just a child, though the theory now seems wild, that the reason they wore ruffs in that far day was because when Queen Bess said "Off with his" or "with her head," that the ruff would sort of help things in this way.

When the headman made the chop just below the ruff—kerflop—then the ruff around the head would make a frill like the frills we have today on our lamb chops when to stay there is company to dine and eat their fill.

Now those headmen you can see over-rough were bound to be while the chopped off heads were over ruff as well, but I hope no one today will go off her head that way over ruffs or any other fashion spell.

In those days it is quite true that the men were ruffed up too and the greatest brains emerged from out the frill. Bill Shakespeare wrote his best, I am sure when he was dressed in a ruff whereon he wiped his facile quill.

And when Drake and Raleigh sailed while the angry billows railed and the winds and waves were rough, in linen line, I've no doubt, they both stepped out on the deck and with a shout said "I see you're rough of waves, do you see mine?"

Just fancy if today Shaskleton should dress this way or Mr. Perry or old Mr. Cook. If H. G. Wells should write in a ruff he'd be a sight and I don't believe he'd buy his latest book.

But 'tis needless thus to fret for the men have not as yet thrust their neck through fashion's yoke these present times. Just the women now the dears are in ruffs up to their ears though they are quite sufficient for these ruffies.

Quite a problem for the stout, that they'll have to figure out, all this ruff wear seems to promise for the fall. How an extra-double chin is a-going to be tucked in is a thing I can't elucidate at all.

Think what quantities of lace, if you have a full moon face, it will take to make your ruff much fuller still. Yards and yards of muslin too, it will take to make into a frill, your fulsome face won't fully fill.

But whether thin or fat, it will be some art at that to learn to eat our victuals in a ruff. Spots of gravy or of soup will soon cause your ruff to droop. We may have to use a slaw for liquid stuff.

And how ever will we kiss? Did you ever think of this? For a stiff starched ruff's no aid to osculation. For if you kiss a gent your ruff will sure get bent and that will also dent your reputation.

For thus your ruff will show like a record, don't you know how oft you've yielded to the kiss temptation. Oh it's going to be tough on all the loving stuff—Dan Cupid might as well take a vacation.

GIRLS! MAKE A BEAUTY LOTION WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no seeds will get in. Then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is truly marvelous to smoothen rough red hands.

Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Life a corn or callus right off
without one bit of pain.

Yes! You can easily get it off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet, without one bit of pain.

A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

National Army To Be Well Fed

Uncle Sam Takes Good Care of The Inner Man

By George Martin
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Aug. 31—On the march or encamped on hikes, the soldiers of the New National army won't fare so sumptuously as in cantonment. Still he'll have clots more three times a day than some folks in Germany are getting.

Also he'll have to take care of his own mess kit. No dining room orderly will set his table with knife, fork, spoons, plate, cup and saucer. He will have to take those things in hand, line up before the serving kettles, take his meal wherever he likes to eat it and wash his individual dinner dishes afterward.

He'll have to wash them properly too. If he comes up for inspection with a greasy spoon or something he'll be punished.

Nor will eating his meals be the pleasure it is in permanent camps. He'll have to learn the rudiments of juggling and something of the art of culinary acrobatics. Balancing a plate of beef and beans, a tin cup of coffee and a knife, fork and spoon while choosing a smooth, hard spot somewhere on the landscape for a dinner table is no snap.

In temporary camp there will be no time for fancy breakfasts. If he gets fried bacon, boiled potatoes, bread and coffee he may count himself lucky.

For lunch, the chances are, he'll get canned corn beef, or fried bacon or canned salmon, cold canned tomatoes, hard or fresh bread and coffee.

For dinner he'll most likely get canned soup, boiled or roast beef, mashed potatoes, peas, corn or succotash, bread and coffee. Mostly canned stuff and hastily, though properly prepared, but with no attempt at style.

But it will be interesting to watch the tricks of the trade employed by the camp cooks with their little vest pocket camp cooking outfits.

For instance, when they want a fireless cooker for the dinner beef, they'll take a bundle of straw, the morning milk can and the camp ash can. Putting the milk can inside the ash can, they'll pack the straw around it, slap the beef inside the milk can, clamp down the lid, pack straw on top, clamp on the ash can lid and let 'er cook.

Practically every utensil in the abbreviated cooking outfit serves an ingenious double or triple, sometimes a quadruple purpose.

ANOTHER DOCTOR IN THE SERVICE

Dr. H. A. Collins of Winburne, who enlisted in the U. S. Medical reserve several months ago, was called for duty and reported at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia on Monday. Dr. Collins has been commissioned as a First Lieutenant.

Since he joined the Phillies in 1911, Pitcher Grover Alexander has won a shade over two games for every one he has lost.

Even if the Giants are "sure enough" champions they look like they were made to order for the Reds, particularly of the Polo grounds.

Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Harrisburg.

Mrs. Blair Sykes and brother John Leitzinger Jr. and Mrs. Wade Stewart returned today from Atlantic City where they spent the past two weeks.

Ryle Miller spent last evening in Philipsburg.

Ready for School Opening

If You Have Needs to Supply For Your School Children Make Purchase BEFORE School Opens

Logic by Mary Ellen Brown, the stylish girl of our town, 'You need to be smart—be well dressed—but you must be well dressed to look smart.'

Mothers who have waited heretofore until the last minute to buy their children's school needs have come to learn that IT IS BEST to make purchases EARLY. If it is a new dress, a new coat, stockings, ribbons or other items the child will need, why wait until the last minute and then be worried with the hustle and hurry of selecting. While we are making special displays of children's wear needs, you can choose satisfactorily and easily and have your child as neat and trim looking as any of her classmates. Aside from this, the values now in force make it worth while to purchase AT ONCE.

Above we illustrate the NEW TRENCH COATS that is now being shown here for Fall wear. Comes in grey mixtures, trench cloth and khaki cloth. Ask to see them.

WILL HEAR MOOLEY DAILY

Frank M. Adams, representative of the Gamewell Fire Alarm and Telegraph Company, was a Clearfield visitor today, having dropped off here en route to a neighboring town where he expects to sell an up-to-date electrical fire alarm system. The local soldier boys who go to

Petersburg, Va., with the new National Army will receive a daily reminder of Clearfield, as Mr. Adams informs us that the War Department has installed a Gamewell electric fire alarm system in every one of thirteen cantonments prepared for the draft army. Thus the fire signal will be sounded by thirteen sisters of "Old Mooley," and the test signal will be a daily reminder to old home scenes and people.

Ray Caldwell playing center field for the Yankees isn't such a bad bet at that. Donovan's incorrigible pitcher can play the job and is somewhat swifter with the stick.

Labor Day 1917

"MAKE THE WORLD SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY" is the cry that rings over our land from the Golden Gate to the Statue of Liberty.

The eager response has been wonderful. Thousands have answered the call of the colors. Thousands have turned their energies toward the feeding of a hungry world. Thousands have joined the throng of workers whose duty it is to provide the sustaining necessities for our boys in the trenches and in training. Thousands toil that business at home may be kept normal and our daily needs supplied.

In the forefront of all these varied activities—with faces turned toward the great light of democracy—marches Labor. Each man feels keenly his personal responsibility. Each man is doing "his bit" nobly. And to each man shall come his share of the glory of world freedom.

To these workers do we dedicate Labor Day 1917, and in their honor this store will remain closed all day.
